

SHIELD OF FAITH

"Take Up the Shield of Faith" - Paul

if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. — 2 Chronicles 7:14

Heal Their Land

This verse is on the tips of many Christian tongues. I've heard it repeated countless times since deepening my commitment to Jesus Christ in 1980. The humble part is forced to the forefront of Christian minds by the social justice warrior christians. And prayer is disconnected from action, while "seeking my face" has become standing and waving our hands inside our stained glass fortresses. Turn from their wicked ways is about someone else. No wickedness in here. Whatchootalkinbout keemosabe! I'M SAVED. America's heavens are bronze. God has OBVIOUSLY sent a strong delusion to the United States. Can't even argue that point anymore. So ... the rest of the verse is irrelevant. Don't even try to argue that I'm too negative or over the top in my assessment. And, NO, I don't hate America. It is an experiment in government that has failed. That's all it is. Nothing more. There will be life after the collapse of the American government. I have no idea what it's going to look like. But some will survive. Some always do. God, by the way, had nothing to do with our collapse. We started with Christian passion and determination in the early 1600s. By the time we got to the revolution nearly 200 years later we had already distanced ourselves from Jesus Christ, choosing not to honor his name in our founding revolutionary documents. And the rest, as they say, is history. Some of you will argue that a return to constitutionalism can save America. I don't disagree. I just don't see ANY evidence that this is happening. John Adams observed that America would not survive if the citizens turned their back on Christianity. I'm merely agreeing with him. He was America's second President, for those of you who were indoctrinated in a government or church led school. Now I've really crossed the line into unforgivable "harshness" and hate. I do mean that the private church led school you trusted failed you miserably. It did so because it was led by adults beholden to the idea that permissioning by the government and accrediting agencies was next to Godliness. To hell with catechizing our youth — teaching them (and holding them accountable [equally important]) to the moral precepts and imagination of Christianity and the Bible. No, we chose to marinate their minds in the same "deep scientific knowledge" that soaks the minds of government-indoctrinated youth. Like the idea that humanity is basically mature pond scum. And marriage is an optional institution easily dissolved using government-approved "no fault divorce." And obesity isn't a sin, it's just another reason for drugs and surgery. Oh ... my ... God! I know ... I'm mean and hateful. OK. But like Donald Trump I'm choosing to know my own mind. How about you?
