Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. — Matthew 22:37

Maybe the Men Will

Soccer is a communist plot designed to destroy America.

That's what a friend, a professional athlete, said the other day. He went on to point out that American football is unique in the world in that it is a team sport that engages the whole man, not just the legs and feet. American football requires the use of the chest and the head to do some bangin.

I attended a soccer game last night. My six year old granddaughter was playing. She was distracted the whole time, bored by it all it appeared. The only ones fully engaged were the coaches. It was coed, of course. Sweet well-to-do parents lounged on the sidelines jockeying between younger children and smart phones. The few teens I observed were watching their phones ... not the game.

I've got to believe that this entire scene would not exist in a society that worshipped Jesus Christ. He answered the sly Jewish lawyer, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." A society that loves God this way tends to matters of the heart, soul and mind ... not just to matters of the body.

All we care or think about is the stuff of the body. The material world and it's rewards are our bounty. We could care less about building a beautiful and heroic multi-generational family oriented culture. If we did care about that we'd be chucking co-ed soccer. We'd start our boys young getting sweaty, dirty and bruised in gladiatorial-like football games that taught them the virtues of teamwork, hardwork and ordered violence. And boys pretending to be girl athletes would not be a thing.

But it is a thing in our future. I've heard people suggest that we are ten to twenty years behind England culturally and socially. Take a look at this bit of news from across the pond.

The headline, "Transgender Athletes Wreak Havoc In Women's Rugby." We're losing our language in addition to our common sense. Listen to this opening sentence, "Biological males who identify as transgender women are wreaking havoc in women's rugby in Great Britain." Biological males?! Identify as transgender women?! Propaganda like this is what has everyone on the planet apologizing to sodomites.

Here's the real meaning of the sentence. And this is how any sensible writer would put it.

Men who are pretending to be women are wreaking havoc in women's rugby in Great Britain. This whole thing is utter insanity.

Alas, the article continues reporting that the referees are quitting. I had to read this next sentence multiple times, and I'm still not sure I understand. The journalist quotes a referee, "Being forced to prioritize hurt feelings over broken bones exposes me to personal litigation from female players who have been damaged by players who are biologically male. This is driving female players and referees out of the game." I think the referee is saying that he exposes himself legally if he doesn't protect the feelings of female players. But I'm still not sure. Only in the now absurdly wicked and chaotic West would one have to try to understand such a thing.

This referee provided the quote anonymously, for good reason. A separate referee commented, "If you even ask the question, you are told you are a bigot." This referee went on to state that he had "witnessed five different women's players with beards over the course of half a season."

Loverly.

While Donald Trump doesn't want "gays" (why can't I use the more biblically accurate term "sodomites") to be thrown off buildings, his political nemesis — the demoncrats — want bearded men to be able to pretend they are female athletes here in America.

The Daily Caller reported, "Democrats in Congress and on the presidential campaign trail have rallied behind the Equality Act, which would amend the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to make 'gender identity' a protected characteristic under federal anti-discrimination law. The bill passed in the House with unanimous Democratic support in May, but it hasn't come up for a vote in the Republican controlled Senate. Former Vice President Joe Biden has said that signing the Equality Act into law will be his top legislative priority if elected."

The heights of our culture are only attained by those "sensible" enough to avoid the generous use of accurate English words to describe the personages that surround them. We are all now infected with this etymologic virus. Additionally Christians have absorbed the theological demands of their betters. We are not allowed anymore to speak freely and accurately about subjects that touch on sex, Jesus Christ or gender. This has been forced on us by the smart people — the intellectual class. The chattering class.

America continues to exist with all her creature comforts because the men who do the dirty jobs grind out their daily routine in churchless porn. Detached from family, Church and culture ... compromised by the "values" of the sexual revolution, they refuse to step up and stop the insanity. They know better. They are patriotic. But they are sexually satisfied and tired.

The many hard working good-in-so-many-ways men of America must rise up against this Leftist "paradise" that is being constructed for U.S. The Church sure isn't going to do it. Maybe the real men will.

God help U.S.

Selah.
